Cost of Patrol One Reason for Re. German Ships in Greek Harbors Have turning Organizations to State Control

Washington, Sept. 1 .- All of the National Guard will return to their mobilization camps in the various states by October 1. This information was given by a high authority today with the additional statement that the government proposes to release the guard from federal service soon after the units arrive at their state destinations.

"The only complications likely to prevent the carrying out of this program," said the official, "is that there should be a fatal break between the United States and Mexico at the approaching sessions of the international commission."

The official regards the strike situation as practically settled and thinks the service of the guard will not be needed for anything connected with it.

The expense of maintaining the guard in the federal service is given as one of the reasons for returning the organizations to state control. A federal soldier costs the government about $1,000 a year. According to figures obtained today there are on the border about 105,000 of the militia, 15,000 are on the way home and 25,000 remain in the states under call. The total on the pay rolls is 145,000.

JOHN P. ST. JOHN DEAD

Sturdy Orator Who Helped to Make "Prohibition" Kansas. John P. St. John, a candidate for the presidency on the prohibition ticket in 1884, twice governor of Kansas and one of the most widely known temperance advocates in the United States, died at Olatha, Kan, Thursday night. He was 83 years old and had been in failing health since a heat prostration two months ago while on a speaking

John Pierce St. John was one of the Measure Passed House By Vote Strike Called This Morning at Genmost widely known temperance advocates in the United States. He was a candidate for president on the prohibition ticket in 1884, and served two terms as governor of Kansas-1879-1883-during which Kansas became a prohibition State.

Describing the fight for prohibtion in Kansas, Governor St. John once Measure Reported to Meet Approval

"The brewers had only themselves to blame for prohibition in Kansas. The first step toward a State-wide movement was at their suggestion. Mr. Flery, a minister, introduced in the House a high license and regulation bill. It stood a good chance of passage. To defeat it, the brewery agents suggested the people be given an opportunity to vote on State-wide prohibition. Of course it was not the purpose of the brewers to submit prothe high license bill killed the saloon in Kansas.

"The prohibitory amendment was submitted to the Senate and passed. The House was to kill it. The brewers had it all figured out. Enough members favored high license, but not pro hibition, they believed, to defeat any attempt to submit the proposition to the people. The brewers guessed wrong about public sentiment,

"Every influence was brought to bear on House members by the brewers. I was governor, but I couldn't keep out of the fight. Violating all precedent, I left the governor's office to help fight the battle on the House

"The day for the vote came. The galleries were packed. The politicians tried hard to avoid a vote by hiding The sergeant-at-arms was busy rounding them up and bringing them into the chamber. Finally the voting was begun. The silence was intense. We needed one vote to get the necessary two-thirds to carry the proposition through. We did not know how to get it. All at once Mrs. Greaver (the wife of one of the members) started Philadelphia 6, Brooklyn 0 (second down the aisle to her husband's desk. She stopped before him, and seizing his hand in hers pleaded with him.

"'For my sake, for the sake of your hildren,' she cried, 'change your vote. Do it for my sake, for my sake, no matter what you believe. "Greaver changed his vote, while the building shook with cheers." Born at Brookville, Ind., February 25, 1833, St. John served as a captain and lieutenant colonel in the Civil War, and settled in Kansas, where h became a member of the State Senate He became a political factor when he won a fight to displace United States. Senator Samuel E. Pomeroy. Pomeroy and St. John had been personal friends, but the latter became displeased with the way Pomercy conducted himself as a senator, hereupon championed John L. Ingalls Pomeroy's opponent, who won. This made St. John a leader and resulted in his election as governor, He was called a "traitor" when he deserted the Republican party and became a candidate for president on the prohibition ticket in '84, was twice shot at, but unhurt. Many republi cans attributed the defeat of James G. Blaine for president, to St. John's entrance into the race.

In 1912, notwithstanding his ad vanced age, he stumped Kansas for woman suffrage, declaring that when women had the vote they would have prohibition. In 1914 he campaigned in the East for prohibition, estimating that up to that time he had, altogether traveled 250,000 miles and delivered 4,500 speeches in behalf of the prohibition cause.

When he was in the Kansas capitol ie inaugurated the first "water banquets," with the result that liquor has been under taboo in the Kansas State House ever since.

ON ADAMSON BILL AT 6 O'CLOCK

of 239 to 58

ONLY TWO DEMOCRATS OPPOSED DEMAND TENPER CENT INCREASE of Brotherhoods and Should Avert Strike.

Washington, Sept. 2.-The United States senate passed the forenoon in an argument over the passage of the eight hour day bill for railroad em ployes which it is expected will avert he threatened strike called for Monday morning. It was agreed that the passage of the bill would be put to a vote at 6 o'clock.

Washington, Sept 2.-Prevention of the threatened railroad strike through an act of Congress seemed assured last night, after the House by an overwhelming vote had passed the Adamson eight-hour-day law and the Senate had agreed to take a final vote no the measure not later than 6 o'clock this evening.

Although it is possible that Senate amendments may make conferences necessary, it is generally believed or both sides of the capitol that when the test comes, the House bill as it stands will be accepted and rushed to Shadow Lawn, N. J., for President Wilson's signature.

While no formal announcement were forthcoming from the employes brotherhoods last night, it is authori tatively stated that this will result in immediate dispatch of code messages calling off the general strike ordered for Monday morning. The Adamsson bill as passed in the House by a vote of 239 to 56, with the Adirondack countains, Another minor amendments, is the same measure which the brotherhood leaders officially declared Thursday would con- to his home late Thursday night. stitute a "satisfactory settlement" and prevent the strike. The amendments added to conform to a drait framed y the Senate interstate commerc committee, would fix the effective date January 1 instead of December 1. 1916, and exempt railroads less than 100 miles long and electric street and interburan lines. Briefly, it provides: That eight hours shall be deemed a day's work and the standard for reckoning compensation of railroad employes operating trains in interstate commerce after January 1. 1917, and,

That a commission of three appointed by President Wilson shall investigate the effects of the eight-hour standard from six to nine months and then report to Congress, present wages not to be reduced during the Investigation or for 30 days thereafter and overtime to be paid at a pro rata

It was after a day of hot debate that the House passed the bill, under a special rule brought in when Republican Leader Mann objected to its con sideration. Less than half of the republicans followed their floor leader in the opposition, and when the final vote came 70 of them lined up with the majority, while only 56 voted against the measure. Just two democrats. Representatives Steele of Pennsylvania and Black of Texas, stood out against the bill, and Representative London of New York, the only socialist, voted for it.

Red tape was eliminated as far as possible to rush the measure over to the Senate, which after several hours of lively discussion over a bill reported by its interstate commerce committee, had recessed until 8 o'clock When the Senate reconvened the House legislation was there awaiting action

The Senate committee bill, drafted during a late session Thursday night and another yesterday morning was the Adamson measure with the same amendments adopted yesterday by the House and an added section empow ering the interstate commerce commission to fix the wakes of interstate railroad employes at the end of the proposed period of investigation and thereafter. At the outset of the night session, Senator Newlands sought and ob tained unanimous consent to put aside the Senate bill and take up the one sent over from the House, thereby paving the way for quick final action without parliamentary formalities that otherwise would be necessary. Then Senator Underwood brought up the issue over which the Senate is divided by proposing as an amendment the rate fixing provision of the discarded Senate bill.

Over this amendment debate waged for three hours, Senattrs Newlands and Underwood advocating It and Senator Cummins making a long speech criticizing the whole proceeding. Most of the senators had little to say, and in the cloakrooms there were strong intimations that the reacon for this was the general conviction that iff the end the House bill would go through without change.

International Officers Instruct Men to Maintain Order and Refrain from Demonstrations.

Pittsfield, Sept. 2.-A strike effective at 9 o'clock this morning was called at the General Electric company's plant yesterday afternoon, according to an announcement made by the international officers of seven different unions among the employes. The union officials claim that the failure of the management to recognize their organizations in their demands for an increase of 10 per cent in wages is responsible for the strike order. About 6000 hands are employed at the factory, and of these the labor leaders claim 3600 are union members. International officers maintain that there are now but 4500 employes at the plant and that 3600 of them will walk out this morning. All who have been instructed to walk out today have been told to maintain order and to desist from unnecessary demonstration. It is said that all efforts to meet Mr. Chesney have failed. It was stated yesterday at Mr. Chesney's home that he is out of the city. It has been asserted that he will remain out for a week or more and that he is to stay this week at a hunting camp in story, affirmed by a cab driver, was to the effect that he drove Mr. Chesney

PARALYSIS SITUATION

Confirmed by State Board Official

Dr. Taylor, who is attached as inspector to the state board of health was at Arlington Friday and confirmed the diagnosis made by the attending physician, Dr. J. H. Reichling, in the third case of infantile paralysis, that of the infant at the home of George Squire. Symptoms of the disease were even more apparent Friday.

The board of trade Friday evening held a meeting for the purpose of discussing the situation and aiding, if possible, the efforts of the Bennington County Improvement association in maintaining the quarantine patrol. The treasurer of the board, H. Harry Sharpe, will receive any contributions that may be presented at the nington County National Bank.

Unless funds are forthcoming it will be necessary to give up the patrol, at least at North Bennington, after next Wednesday. The expense of the double shift patrol at North Bennington, the most critical point, is considerable and the work can not be cortinued unless there is an immediate response.
